

Axsy is Ready for Windows 10 and Salesforce

The Axsy App brings in-field efficiency and offline Salesforce access to all Windows 10 devices

Ready for The Field

When you work directly with your customers in the field, you need to be confident that you're working with reliable data. That's why Axsy integrates with Salesforce, providing on-the-go access to your Sales Cloud, Service Cloud and Field Service Lightning data.

Axsy maintains real-time, two-way sync with the Salesforce platform – your system-of-record – ensuring that you always have the data you need to do your job.

Ready to Be Tailored to Your Business Processes

Sales reps have different needs than service technicians, and employees require different access than contractors or franchisees. That's why the Axsy app was designed to be easily tailored to multiple user scenarios.

Unlike other mobile experiences that deliver a generic, data-centric view to all users, Axsy enables the creation of unique process-driven experiences through simple configuration and scripting. Deployed in days, there's no need for complex and costly customization.

Axsy empowers users in different roles to be efficient and effective, dynamically downloading the data model and features required for their specific use case at the point of login.

Ready to Accept Payments

Get paid easier. The Axsy app accepts face-to-face card payments with support for both chip and magnetic stripe cards. For those customers who would rather pay later, you can easily issue an electronic invoice which includes a link to pay online.

In all cases, payments are automatically reconciled to the relevant sales or work order, greatly reducing the overhead, delays and errors that can make manual processing costly.

Maybe you're typically offline all day, or maybe you jump constantly between being online and being offline. In all cases, the Axsy app automatically manages your connectivity and the exchange of updates on your behalf, ensuring that you can continue to do business even with spotty network conditions.

Ready for All Windows 10 Devices

Whether you have rolled out mobile phones, tablets, laptops or a combination of devices to your teams in the field, know with confidence that the Axsy app will work on all of them.

Axsy is a Universal Windows Platform (UWP) app, meaning that it runs seamlessly across all Windows 10 devices and form factors. This frees you to make hardware choices based purely on your specific business needs with no need to worry about compatibility and coverage. In all cases, Axsy is ready.

Ready for Any Network Condition

The Axsy app is designed to address the challenges that are unique to working on the road, such as unreliable internet access. Unlike web-based apps, the Axsy app works fully offline, meaning you can continue to view, edit and manage your Salesforce data even without an internet connection.
